SOURCE & USE

This standalone reference compiles the Sorcerer class rules from the user-provided DC20 Beta 0.10.5 rulebook. Rules are reorganized for table use while preserving the class terminology, choices, costs, ranges, and level structure. The rulebook remains authoritative if a later rules version changes them.

SPELLCASTING CLASS

Sorcerer

Sorcerers tap into the raw magic in their own bodies as a conduit to harness, manipulate, and sculpt magic with wild resolve. They can overload themselves and even cast Spells without Mana, pushing the limits of magic and their own bodies.

Source of Power: A Sorcerer's magic is in their blood, allowing them to tap into it naturally and use it in ways others can't. This could come from a lineage of angels, dragons, demons, or something else, or from an incident that suffused their body with magic.
